Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

DL-405A
(FAQ)
(Est. 1/12)

The following FAQs will help you in determining how to meet the new Federal medical certification requirements:

Q. What must I do to comply with the new requirements for making my medical certification part of my CDL driving record?

A. Starting on February 1, 2012, when you:

- Apply for a CDL;
- Renew a CDL;
- Apply for a higher class of CDL;
- Apply for a new endorsement on a CDL; or
- Transfer a CDL from another State

You will be required to self-certify to a single type of commercial operation on SCDMV Form DL-405A Commercial Driver's License Holders Medical Certification Requirements. Based on that self-certification, you may need to provide your current medical examiner's certificate and show any variance (Federal Waiver/Skills Performance Evaluation) you may have to obtain or keep your CDL.

Q. How do I determine which type of commercial motor vehicle (CMV) operation I should self-certify?

A. For the purpose of complying with the new requirements for medical certification, it is important to know how you are using the CMV. To help you decide, follow these steps:

Step 1: Do you, or will you, use a CDL to operate a CMV in interstate or intrastate commerce?

Interstate commerce is when you drive a CMV:

- From one State to another State or a foreign country;
- Between two places within a State, but during part of the trip, the CMV crosses into another State or foreign country; or
- Between two places within a State, but the cargo is part of a trip that began or will end in another State or foreign country.

Intrastate commerce is when you drive a CMV within a State and you do not meet any of the descriptions above for interstate commerce.

If you operate in both intrastate commerce and interstate commerce, you must choose interstate commerce.

In the state of South Carolina, Non-excepted intrastate commerce is applicable only to individuals between 18 and 20 years of age and/or with an "I" restriction on his license.

Step 2: Once you decide you operate or will operate in interstate commerce or intrastate commerce, you must decide whether you operate (or expect to operate) in a non-excepted or excepted status. This decision will tell you which of the four types of commerce you must self-certify.

Interstate Commerce:

You operate in excepted interstate commerce when you drive a CMV in interstate commerce only for the following excepted activities:

- To transport school children and/or school staff between home and school;
- As Federal, State or local government employees;
- To transport human corpses or sick or injured persons;
- Fire truck or rescue vehicle drivers during emergencies and other related activities;

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

DL-405A
(FAQ)
(Est. 1/12)

- Primarily in the transportation of propane winter heating fuel when responding to an emergency condition requiring immediate response such as damage to a propane gas system after a storm or flooding;
- In response to a pipeline emergency condition requiring immediate response such as a pipeline leak or rupture;
- In custom harvesting on a farm or to transport farm machinery and supplies used in the custom harvesting operation to and from a farm or to transport custom harvested crops to storage or market;
- Beekeeper in the seasonal transportation of bees;
- Controlled and operated by a farmer, but is not a combination vehicle (power unit and towed unit), and is used to transport agricultural products, farm machinery or farm supplies (no placardable hazardous materials) to and from a farm and within 150 air-miles of the farm;
- As a private motor carrier of passengers for non-business purposes ; or
- To transport migrant workers.

If you answered yes to one or more of the above activities as the only operation in which you drive, you operate in excepted interstate commerce and do not need a Federal medical examiner's certificate.

If you answered no to all of the above activities, you operate in non-excepted interstate commerce and are required to provide a current medical examiner's certificate (49 CFR 391.45), commonly referred to as a medical certificate or DOT card. Most CDL holders who drive CMVs in interstate commerce are non-excepted interstate commerce drivers.

If you operate in both excepted interstate commerce and non-excepted interstate commerce, you must choose non-excepted interstate commerce to be qualified to operate in both types of interstate commerce.

Q. Will current CDL Holders be notified of the Self-certification requirement?

A. Yes, all current South Carolina Commercial Driver License and beginner's permit holders will receive a letter notifying them of the requirement.

Q. What if my Commercial license does not expire until after January 30, 2014?

A. Prior to January 30, 2014 you must self-certify to a single type of commercial operation.

Q. What happens after January 30, 2014 if I have not self-certified my commercial operation?

A. CDL holders who do not meet the January 30, 2014 will be in jeopardy of losing their Commercial Driver's License.

Q. How do I self-certify?

A. You may visit any SCDMV field office and complete a form DL-405A (Commercial Driver's License Holders Medical Certification Requirements). The form can also be down loaded from our website www.scdmvonline.com and mailed, faxed or email to the CDL Help desk. Depending upon the self-certification you may also need to present a valid DOT medical card.
