

Disclosure and Authorization for Consumer Reports and Investigative Consumer Reports

Carefully read the following information before you sign and date this document.

Privacy Notice: For information about our privacy policies, visit www.usps.com/privacypolicy.

The United States Postal Service® or its agent may obtain from a consumer reporting agency for employment-related purposes a consumer report(s) (commonly known as a “background report”), investigative consumer report(s), or both, containing background information about me in connection with my employment, application for employment, or engagement for services (including but not limited to as an independent contractor or employee of an independent contractor, as applicable).

The reports may contain information about my character, general reputation, personal characteristics, and mode of living. An investigative consumer report is a special type of consumer report obtained through interviews.

I authorize the United States Postal Service or its agent to obtain consumer reports about me as described above.

A copy of this authorization is as effective and valid as the original.
